Megan, a nursing student from Bethel College, has volunteered off and on at the Asilo for 2 year

Home for the Elderly Expands-by Megan Riggott

When I look at old pictures, I can hardly believe how much the Home for the elderly (better known here as the “Asilo”) has grown! We thank God for the opportunity to minister to a growing number of elderly men and women; it is exciting for me to see all the changes that have happened over the years. However, with growth come more needs for this ministry. We seem to fill up new rooms before they are finished and empty beds never stay that way for more than a day or two. The food and medicine storage closets, on the other hand, have been looking emptier lately! Home for elderly continues on back...

What excites José the most? The chance to stay in a hotel and have a bed all to himself!

La Roca Student to Meet President Fox! by Tracey Crary

Along with our own outstanding scholars, we have a young man who just graduated from our school who also deserves special recognition. Many of our La Roca School sixth graders participated in a recent citywide Scholastic Olympics competition. The top four students entered the Baja California statewide competition. Out of all the students that participated throughout the city, three of the four winners were from our La Roca Community School! These four traveled to Ensenada to compete for the chance to represent their state at the nationwide competition in Mexico City. After months of studying and preparation, José Guadalupe Hernández, one of Sinai's students, won this high honor! This summer he will fly to the Capital to meet Mexico's President Vicente Fox, have the opportunity to travel throughout the city, stay in a hotel for a week and even go to Six Flags. Esperanza Drug Rehab Expands Women's Center

Pastor Javier Marquez has given his wife Lydia a new assignment: “Women's Rehabilitation.” With the help of short term teams— especially from Ukiah— the center for women was built. Initially it was meant to help mothers on drugs; however, the clients have instead been teenage girls on crack cocaine. Five of them have already completed their three months of detoxification and training and are back with their families.

Additional needs at the drug rehab center are:

- Funds to dig a well for the over 120 men and women being served.
- An extension on the women's center for the kitchen.
- A block machine ($7500 needed yet) to make retaining wall blocks to help La Roca. shore up the terrain around the La Roca Free School. This wall will keep the building from sliding down the slope this coming rainy season. La Roca has started the retaining wall by buying blocks, but they are very expensive and both ministries would be better served if Esperanza Rehab made these blocks.

Micro Enterprises and the Grego's Arrival

Our good friends and fellow LAM missionaries, Robert and Roxann Grego (with David and Julie) have joined us from Costa Rica. They're helping us work with teams, develop micro-enterprise, and train children's workers, while they continue to raise their support level with LAM so they can be officially deployed. If you'd like to have them share their vision in your church or small group, let us know—you're in for a blessing!

PTL for Summer Short-term Teams! From Canada, Texas, and Minnesota, teams have come to share their love, energy, resources and faith with our Tijuana ministries. They've encouraged and blessed us with their hard work, generosity and prayers. Our next letter will include particulars, but I want to share Jacqueline's thoughts on her time: "I think I speak for others and not just myself when I say that what we believed to be a trip in which we were going to bless people turned out to be a trip in which we were more blessed than we could have imagined- the people we went to minister to, in turn ministered to us." Pictured with 9-yr-old Lupita's family are Cameron and Josh from Alberta who saw real need & real faith up close and personal.

Kids 4 Kids Race
Wow! Thanks to runners and givers, over $5000 came in to help Tijuana ministries to children!

More vehicles are needed to transport the elderly to doctor appointments and to church, but we recently had
