

R110 – Fundamentals of Speech Communication
Fall 2017 – Wednesday 6:00-8:40 PM – Section #20507

Instructor: David Fleischhacker E-mail: Via Canvas (preferred) or
My office: CA 313, Cubicle D dfleisch@iupui.edu
Office hours: Wed. 4:30 – 5:30

Required Coursebook:

Fundamentals of Speech Communication (Second Edition)

- ISBN: 9780738083605
- Must be purchased at the Barnes and Noble (campus) bookstore
- Must purchase a new book

Learning Objectives:

Student Learning Outcomes for this course can be found on Page vi of the Coursebook.

Additional regulations:

- 1) No hats will be worn during a speech or presentation. They cover the face, hide your expressions, and limit eye contact.
- 2) 50 points will be deducted from your FINAL grade for each time you fail to turn off your beeper or cell phone. It is very disruptive.
- 3) All speech assignments must be completed to pass the class.
- 4) Your speech grade may be penalized if you are talking, studying other subjects, sleeping, or attempting to prepare your own speech while others are speaking.
- 5) No lectern will be used while speaking.
- 6) NEVER enter the room while a classmate is speaking; wait for the applause, then enter.
- 7) Outlines and audience analyses are due the day of your speech, if not before.
- 8) The blackboard/whiteboard is not a visual aid and may not be used for speeches.
- 9) All work is to be typed.
- 10) Keep a copy of everything you turn into me. If there is a question regarding your grade, no change can be made without the original document.
- 11) Unless told otherwise, bring your Coursebook to each class.
- 12) Dress appropriately for each presentation.
- 13) Many different beliefs, expressions, and ideas will be shared in our classroom. Please respect this as a learning opportunity for you to engage fully.

Extra Credit:

- ❑ For some of your speeches you may visit the Speaker's Lab for extra credit. Your first visit to the Speaker's Lab for each of your speeches is worth 10 extra credit points.
 - o <http://liberalarts.iupui.edu/spchlab>
 - o spchlab@iupui.edu
 - o 278-7940

- ❑ You may complete outside speaker's reports. See Canvas for details. All outside speaker's reports are due on November 23rd. Each report will be worth up to 40 points.

Late Work:

Late work, if accepted, is automatically penalized, with the penalty increasing as the work becomes later. Late speeches will be made-up as time allows and will be penalized, regardless of the reason why they are being presented late.

Attendance & Tardies:

Attendance will be taken each day. Attendance in this course is mandatory. You are allowed one (1) absence without penalty. This absence MAY NOT TAKE place on a day you are scheduled to speak.

There are no excused absences. The reason for the absence is not important. You are responsible for the work of the day and will not receive any credit for work completed in class the day you are absent.

- Starting with your 2nd absence you will be docked up to 5% of your final grade (100 pts.).
- Tardies are any arrival 5 minutes or more after the class has started. Two (2) tardies count as one absence.
- Leaving class before the class is dismissed is the same as a tardy. Two (2) times leaving early counts as one absence.

R110 Textbook Policy:

The new edition, second edition, is the ONLY textbook available for COMM R110 at IUPUI. Please note:

- every student is required to purchase a textbook
- all material in the textbook is intellectual property and is under copyright by the Board of Trustees of Indiana University
- no portion of the R110 textbook should be reproduced in any way without prior permission from the copyright holder
- photocopying of rubrics or ANY portion of the book, even only a page or two, DOES NOT constitute fair use
- any use stemming from the reproduction of any of the R110 textbook's material is a violation of US copyright laws and constitutes theft

R110 Final Exam Policy:

R110 is part of the core 30 hours that all freshmen are required to take at IUPUI. As a result R110 is required by the University to adhere to certain standards that other courses you take may not. The Final Exam in R110 is a component of these requirements as a result the following policies are strictly enforced and are expected to be adhered to.

Your final exam in R110:

- will consist of 100 multiple-choice questions
- will be comprehensive over the entire textbook
- will be administered through the IUPUI Testing Center
- will require you to register for a time to take the final exam during the assigned day of your final exam
- will require you to take the final exam at the time and on the day you register to take it

Around the last week of October 2017 you will receive a web link that will be posted on Canvas. You will copy this web link into a browser and you will be directed to a registration web site maintained by the IUPUI Testing Center that allows you to register for a time during the day of your final exam in R110. You will be required to show up to the IUPUI Testing Center at that time and on that day to take your final exam.

You must make a reservation to take your final exam prior to delivering your final speech in R110. Failure to make a reservation to take your final exam in R110 prior to your final speech scheduled delivery will result in a zero grade for your final speech – the policy speech.

Failure to take your exam at the time and on the day that you register will result in zero credit for the final exam. The final exam in all sections of R110 constitutes 10% of your final grade.

Regarding End-of-Semester Travel Plans:

You are expected to be present on campus and ready to take your final exam during finals week – finals week for R110 occurs in accordance to the schedule set by IUPUI. If you need to make travel arrangements please be advised not to leave campus prior to the start of finals week, December 4, 2017, and DO NOT leave campus prior to the day of your R110 final exam. Failure to adhere to this policy will result in zero credit for your final exam – you will not be given an option to take the final exam early. Please plan accordingly as there will be no particular exceptions granted to this rule.

Administrative Withdrawals:

A basic requirement of this course is that you will participate in all class meetings and conscientiously complete all required course activities and/or assignments. Keep in touch with me if you are unable to attend, participate, or complete an assignment on time. If you miss more than half of the required activities within the first 25% of the course without contacting me, you may be administratively withdrawn from this course. Example: Our course meets once per week; thus if you miss more than two classes in the first four weeks, you may be withdrawn. Administrative withdrawal may have academic, financial, and financial aid implications. Administrative withdrawal will take place after the full refund period, and if you are administratively withdrawn from the course you will not be eligible for a tuition refund. If you have questions about the administrative withdrawal policy at any point during the semester, please contact me.

FLAGS System

This semester I will be using IU's FLAGS System to provide real-time feedback on your performance in this course. Periodically throughout the semester I will be entering data on factors such as your class attendance, participation, and success with coursework, among other things. This information will provide feedback on how you are faring in the course and offer you suggestions on how you might be able to improve your performance.

You will be able to access this information in the student center: Onestart > Student Services page > Student Center > My Academics and Grades > My Grades.

Canvas:

Much of this class will require the use of Canvas. For information go to <http://canvas.iu.edu> or visit the UITs office in the IT building.

Academic Integrity

Please refer to the IUPUI Student Code of Conduct: <http://www.iupui.edu/code/> for information regarding penalties and procedures in cases of academic misconduct: cheating, plagiarism, etc.

Academic Misconduct: From the IUPUI Bulletin (<http://www.bulletin.iupui.edu/>)

The university may discipline a student for academic misconduct, which is defined as any activity that tends to compromise the academic integrity of the institution and undermine the educational process. Academic misconduct includes, but is not limited to, the following:

1. Cheating

- a. A student must not use external assistance on any “in-class” or “take-home” examination, unless the instructor specifically has authorized such assistance. This prohibition includes, but is not limited to, the use of tutors, books, notes, and calculators.
- b. A student must not use another person as a substitute in the taking of an examination or quiz.
- c. A student must not steal examinations or other course materials.
- d. A student must not allow others to conduct research or to prepare any work for him or her without advance authorization from the instructor to whom the work is being submitted. Under this prohibition, a student must not make any unauthorized use of materials obtained from commercial term paper companies or from files of papers prepared by other persons.
- e. A student must not collaborate with other persons on a particular project and submit a copy of a written report which is represented explicitly or implicitly as the student’s own individual work.
- f. A student must not use any unauthorized assistance in a laboratory, at a computer terminal, or on fieldwork.

- g. A student must not submit substantial portions of the same academic work for credit or honors more than once without permission of the instructor to whom the work is being submitted.
 - h. A student must not alter a grade or score in any way.
- 2. Fabrication
A student must not falsify or invent any information or data in an academic exercise including, but not limited to, records or reports, laboratory results, and citations to the sources of information.
- 3. Plagiarism
A student must not adopt or reproduce ideas, words, or statements of another person without an appropriate acknowledgment. A student must give due credit to the originality of others and acknowledge an indebtedness whenever he or she does any of the following:
 - a. Quotes another person's actual words, either oral or written;
 - b. Paraphrases another person's words, either oral or written;
 - c. Uses another person's idea, opinion, or theory; or
 - d. Borrows facts, statistics, or other material, unless the information is common knowledge.
- 4. Interference
 - a. A student must not steal, change, destroy, or impede another student's work. Impeding another student's work includes, but is not limited to, the theft, defacement, or mutilation of resources so as to deprive others of the information they contain.
 - b. A student must not give or offer a bribe, promise favors, or make threats with the intention of affecting a grade or the evaluation of academic performance.
- 5. Violation of Course Rules
A student must not violate course rules as contained in a course syllabus or other information provided to the student.
- 6. Facilitating Academic Dishonesty
A student must not intentionally or knowingly help or attempt to help another student to commit an act of academic misconduct.

This is just one area of the Code of Student Rights, Responsibilities, and Conduct. See the link above for complete details.

Sexual Misconduct:

IU does not tolerate acts of sexual misconduct, including sexual harassment and all forms of sexual violence. If you have experienced sexual misconduct, or know someone who has, the University can help. It is important to know that federal regulations and University policy require faculty to promptly report complaints of potential sexual misconduct known to them to their campus Deputy Title IX Coordinator(s) to ensure that appropriate measures are taken and resources are made available. The University will work with you to protect your privacy by sharing information with only those that need to know to ensure the University can respond and assist. If you are seeking help and would like to speak to someone confidentially, you can make an appointment with a Mental Health Counselor on campus (contact information available at <http://stopsexualviolence.iu.edu/employee/confidential.html>). Find more information about sexual violence, including campus and community resources at <http://stopsexualviolence.iu.edu/>.

FERPA

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) affords students certain rights with respect to their education records. These rights include:

The right to inspect and review the student's education records within 45 days of the day the University receives a request for access. A student should submit to the registrar, dean, head of the academic department, or other appropriate official, a written request that identifies the record(s) the student wishes to inspect. The University official will make arrangements for access and notify the student of the time and place where the records may be inspected. If the records are not maintained by the University official to whom the request was submitted, that official shall advise the student of the correct official to whom the request should be addressed.

The right to request the amendment of the student's education records that the student believes are inaccurate, misleading, or otherwise in violation of the student's privacy rights under FERPA. A student who wishes to ask the University to amend a record should write the University official responsible for the record, clearly identify the part of the record the student wants changed, and specify why it should be changed. If the University decides not to amend the record as requested, the University will notify the student in writing of the decision and the student's right to a hearing regarding the request for amendment. Additional information regarding the hearing procedures will be provided to the student when notified of the right to a hearing.

The right to provide written consent before the University discloses personally identifiable information from the student's education records, except to the extent that FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent. The University discloses education records without a student's prior written consent under the FERPA exception for disclosure to school officials with legitimate educational interests. A school official is a person employed by the University in an administrative, supervisory, academic or research, or support staff position (including law enforcement unit personnel and health staff); a person or company with whom the University has contracted as its agent to provide a service instead of using University employees or officials (such as an attorney, auditor, or collection agent); a person serving on the Board of Trustees; or a student serving on an official committee, such as a disciplinary or grievance committee, or assisting another school official in performing his or her tasks. A school official has a legitimate educational interest if the official needs to review an education record in order to fulfill his or her professional responsibilities for the University. Upon request, the University may disclose education records without consent to officials of another school in which a student seeks or intends to enroll. Finally, "public information" may be released freely unless the student files the appropriate form requesting that certain public information not be released. This form is available at the Office of the Registrar. Public information is limited to name; address; e-mail address; phone; major field of study; dates of attendance; admission or enrollment status; campus; school, college, or division; class standing; degrees and awards; activities; sports; and athletic information.

The right to file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Education concerning alleged failures by Indiana University to comply with the requirements of FERPA. The name and address of the Office that administers FERPA is:

Family Policy Compliance Office
U.S. Department of Education
400 Maryland Avenue, SW
Washington, DC 20202-5901

Resources for Students:

Counseling & Psychological Services

Students who wish to seek counseling or other psychological services should contact the CAPS office by phone at 274-2548 or email at capsindy@iupui.edu. For more information, visit the CAPS website at <http://life.iupui.edu/caps/>

Speeches

The speech assignments are described in detail in the Coursebook, including the grading criteria/rubric for each speech and outline. For the Introduction Speech, review pages 25-26. For the How-To Speech, review pages 161-162. For the Explanation Speech, review pages 167-168. For the QOF/QOV Persuasive Speech, review pages 281-284. For the Question of Policy Speech, review pages 285-287. Follow all of the instructions for each speech. Read ahead to make sure required surveys are conducted on a timely basis. Make sure speech time limits are followed very closely. Extreme violations of time limits (under or over) will adversely affect your speech grade. All speeches must be delivered in order to pass the class.

Outline, Audience Analysis, Speaker and Outline Forms

All forms are embedded with each assignment. A template outline formatted according to the three column format is available on Canvas and accompanies each speech; it is due on the speech date before class. An Audience Adaptation Paper, starting with the How-To Speech, is required for each speech and is also due on the speech date before class.

The syllabus may change at the instructor's discretion and will be posted on Canvas.
